

During the lesson, typical distortions arising in SPM images will be analysed, including e.g. thermal drift, hysteresis, axes crosstalk, tip convolution,... Post processing of scans will be then analysed, also in the frame of a reference mathematical model.