

Michele Conti is associate Professor of Industrial Bioengineering at DICAr Department of University of Pavia, Italy. In 2011, he received his joint PhD in Biomedical Engineering (Pavia University, IT and Ghent University, BE). Author of 61 papers on refereed International Journals and 6 chapters in international books. Expert in cardiovascular biomechanics, numerical and experimental analysis of endovascular devices, life support systems; he has a strong interest in novel technologies in biomedical field including 3D (bio)printing.