

04/10/2002. Degree in Biological Sciences cum laude at the University of Catania. 04/03/2007, PhD, (SSD. MED/42). Since 15/ Maj 2008 to 31 March 2018 she was Post Doc. Since 1 March 2012 is teacher of Hygiene for Italian Studies Center of Osteopathy (CSDOI) of Catania, Italy and for several degree courses of University of Catania and for the II Level Master courses (First and Second edition) "Monitoring and assessment of the mutagenic, carcinogenic and teratogenic environmental risk" of University of Catania. Since 26 September 2016 Dr. Oliveri Conti G. collaborates with Scientists of Environmental Health Department of Harvard School of Public Health, USA, and Environmental Health Department of Columbia University, New York, USA. Dr. Oliveri Conti G. was guest editor of several special issues (Food and Chemical Toxicology journal (Elsevier), IJERPH (MDPI)). Since 2017 Dr. Oliveri Conti was enabled through a national competition as Associated professor in Preventive Medicine and Public Health. Dr. Oliveri Conti G. inventor of an Italian patent (March 2020) about a new methodology of counting and measurements of microplastics in several biological and inorganic matrices, accepted in 2020. (7 March 2019) Dr. Oliveri Conti G. was coauthor of the extended Italian patent in several countries extra-EU and EU. Since 1 June of 2018 is Researcher in Preventive Medicine and Public Health of University of Catania. Italy. The research of Dr. G. Oliveri Conti is proved by 359 publications. Hindex 27, Citations 1747, 108 articles , Orcid 0000-0003-1857-8612