

Andrea Piccaluga, professor of Innovation Management, is the Director of the Institute of Management at Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna. He is currently vice-President of Netval (www.netval.it), the Italian network of University Technology Transfer Offices after being president in the 2014-2019 period. He holds a PhD from Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna and a Master in Technology and Innovation Management from SPRU (University of Sussex, Brighton). He is Associate editor of the R&D Management Journal and Creativity and Innovation Management Journal. He has collaborated with large and medium-sized companies (Knauf, Ansaldo Energia, Loccioni, TT Venture, Valagro, etc.) and with the European Patent Office (EPO) and the Italian Patent Office (UIBM) in the field of Innovation/Technology and IP Management and with the regional governments of Puglia (Arti), Tuscany and Emilia Romagna in the field of policies for entrepreneurship and technology transfer. He has published books and papers in his fields of specialisation, which are: R&D management, Open Innovation, Regional Innovation Policies, high-tech entrepreneurship and Technology Transfer. He is co-author of La sfida del trasferimento tecnologico. Le università italiane si raccontano (Springer, with M. Bianchi) and La gestione del trasferimento tecnologico (Springer, with G. Conti and M. Granieri).